

Course:

Book Study, Hacking School Libraries – 10 Ways to Incorporate Library Media Centers into Your Learning Community

If you are a K-12 teacher-librarian, are thinking about becoming a teacher-librarian, or simply interested in how a school library can have a meaningful impact on the culture of a school, Hacking School Libraries is an excellent read.

School libraries have the potential to be more inviting and innovative which will ultimately lead to more use by students and their families, staff and community members. This book will change the way you view school libraries and includes tips on how to set up the space, how to get students more involved in the library and how to advocate the importance of the library.

BOOK:

Hacking School Libraries-10 Ways to Incorporate Library Media Centers into Your Learning Community

By Kristina A. Holzweiss and Stony Evans

COST:

$175 Course Fee

OPTIONAL GRADUATE CREDITS/CLOCK HOURS:

Graduate Credits or

30 Clock Hours/Professional Development Hours offered.

Visit teacherstudy.org for details!

TEACHER STUDY

PO Box 3131
Vancouver, WA 98668

(360) 907-5145
Lorie@teacherstudy.org
teacherstudy.org